

Prior to joining the do not call list, we were innundated with telemarketers. Quite often the callers were rude and unscrupulous. It became so unbearable, we resorted to turning the ringers off and simply scanning our phone message at the end of the day.

Now we have achieved calm. Do not allow these unsolicited calls to commence again!